PITTSBURGH APPOINTMENTS.

The President has made the following appointments for Allegheny County: JAMES LOWRY, JR., to be Surveyor of Customs, in place of CHARLES W. BACHELOR; SAMUEL MCKELVY, to be United States Marshal of Western District, vice ALEXANDER MURDOCH; FERDINAND E. VOLZ, to be Collector of Twenty-Second District, vice WILLIAM LITTLE; A. G. LLOYD, to be Assessor of Twenty-Third District, vice SAMUEL MARKS; DR. THOMAS H. ELLIOT, Surgeon at Marine Hospital, vice DR. A. G. MCCANDLESS; WADE HAMPTON, Post Master, vice S. F. VON BONHORST.

VALLANDIGHAM, having accomplished his appointment as a delegate to the Philadelphia Convention, has exercised great prudence in setting forth what he thinks of Doolittle, Dixon, Cowan, and the other leaders of the "Bread and Butter Brigade." Speaking of them in a letter to the Democratic Committee of the Third Congressional District of Ohio he says:

"There is not one act of wrong, oppression or outrage, committed during the last five years, upon the Democratic party or the individual members who compose it, for which they are not directly or remotely responsible. Dispersal of public meetings, suppression of newspapers, proscription in all the social, religious and business relations of life, calumnies, persecutions, mobbings, stripes, stonings, arrests, imprisonment, military commissions, exile, death—these were the bitter fruits of the teachings of the men who now invite Democrats to sit in friendly council with them in the Philadelphia Convention."

He gives these people to understand that rebels and Copperheads will not be excluded from the proposed Convention, and that attempts to that end will be chastised—he does not say precisely how, but leaves it to be inferred they will be kicked out of the back door. He adds:

"I am not aware that a handful of mischievous and evil-disposed persons of the Republican party, now among the professed friends of the President, but themselves of peculiarly odious and unpatriotic record and antecedents, pretend to set up tests for admission to the Philadelphia Convention, as against certain men—in fact, all men—of the Democratic party. The combined indecency, presumption and folly of this pretense, together with the mingled treachery and hypocrisy of the motives which prompt it, render it too contemptible for further notice."

THE Atlanta New Era, discussing the future, gives another warning of what the Johnson party intend to do in case the Democrats carry a few of the Northern elections for Congressmen. It says:

"It is now evident that the Radicals will lose some eighteen members at the October elections. This would so change the status of Congress as that, the Democrats and Conservative members added to the members elect from the Southern States, would constitute the majority of the whole; the result would be two Congresses, each claiming to be the Congress of the United States. The seventy or seventy-five Democratic and Conservative members, whose title to seats will be undisputed, united with the fifty-eight excluded Southern members, could elect a Chairman instead of a Clerk, choose a Speaker and then apply to the President for recognition.

"This recognition, if given, would lead to the necessity of dispersing the Radical faction claiming to be the Congress, and this would lead to civil war—a war, the issue of which would be the rights of the States under the General Government, instead of the rights of the States to secede from the Union."

The loyal men of the North, of all shades of opinion, are coming to understand this matter. The Memphis and New Orleans massacres have enlightened them with the temper and purposes of the rebel inhabitants of the Southern States; and they will take good care that the eighteen members of Congress are not of a sort to be used in the manner proposed. Pennsylvania certainly will not contribute one of the eighteen.

WHEN the United States Senate proposed to make an exception to the taking of the Test Oath by MR. PATTERSON, one of the new Senators from Tennessee, it expressed in the strongest possible manner, the belief that he could not take the oath without committing perjury. After the House of Representatives refused to concur in making the exception, the Senate, by allowing MR. PATTERSON to take the oath, was guilty, if not of the subornation of perjury, of something very nearly akin thereto. That MR. PATTERSON, in taking the oath, was guilty of perjury, does not seem to admit of question.

THE cholera has made its appearance in Cincinnati. The Board of Health announces twelve deaths during July, commencing on the 11th. On the 31st of August there were ten fatal cases between six o'clock in the morning and six o'clock in the evening. The Commercial of Sunday says:

"The disease cannot be said to have assumed an epidemic form. The cases are sporadic, occurring here and there, in various parts of the city, the disease taking as its subjects, generally, those who were predisposed by diarrhea complaints to its assaults."

WHAT HAS BECOME OF MR. WELLS, the Governor of Louisiana? Does he exist, and the office he was elected to fill? Or, has the President, by an act of military despotism, wiped out both? If the President may dispose of a Governor in this summary manner in New Orleans, why not in New York or Pennsylvania? What limits shall be put to his power?

THE Lockport, N. Y., Journal publishes a rich joke in the shape of a call for a Convention of "those who voted for Harrison and Tyler, Taylor and Fillmore, Lincoln and Johnson, and who approve the course of Tyler, Fillmore and Johnson, in carrying out the principles of their lamented predecessors (and none other)."

THE people of the Southern States are doing at least one thing, that affords us gratification—they are building almost numberless cotton-mills. Let them keep on in that work, and ultimately, by similarity of pursuits and interests, the two sections will be bound together as with bands of iron.

IT IS APPARENT from the tone of the Southern journals that the rebel leaders only wait the consummation of the President's Policy to inaugurate a reign of terror, having for its object the driving of all white Union men out of the eleven seceding States.

THE statement that Gen. KIDDOO is en route for Pittsburgh is wholly without foundation. Letters recently received from him in this city state that he is attending to his duties in Texas, and that his health is much improved.

THE Congressional Conference for the 23d district stands adjourned to the 10th instant, when Mr. Williams will undoubtedly be nominated.

DR. HOSTETTER—Sir: I have long delayed writing to you my sincere thanks for the good you have done my daughter. I can truly say that nothing but the kind hand of Providence and your BITTERS have saved her from an early grave. For three years I have been doctoring her with syrups and all kinds of bitters that have been recommended to me for her, besides having two first rate physicians; but all seemed to do her no good, while I was searching the almanacs and all the newspapers that I could get hold of, in hopes of finding something that would suit her case. Accidentally there came part of a newspaper around some goods that I bought at the Spa. In looking it over I saw at a glance that your BITTERS was just what she needed. I sent the next day to Ballston Spa and got a bottle of your BITTERS. She commenced taking them, and such a change in one week with her appetite, and the distress that victuals occasioned, and that burning in the Stomach, I never saw in my life as there was in her. She has taken three bottles, and is now able to work all the time. I think there is a little derangement of the Liver. Please send me three bottles more, which I think will cure her entirely. We and others thought she had disease of the heart, but that beating and fluttering that would almost stop her from breathing at times, is all gone. Yours, with respect,

MRS. AMANDA MCPHERSON.

Truth.

No medicine has ever yet surpassed "Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup" for the cure of coughs and colds, and the attendant evils. It not only stops, but it cures. It relieves the overburdened tubes and air cells, and stops the cough by curing and healing the sore and inflamed membranes of the bronchial and lungs. Dr. Keyser also prepares a medicine for lung diseases called Lung Alterative, the object of which is to heal and nourish the lungs in the process of cure. Both of these medicines can be obtained at his Drug Store, 140 Wood street. Private office for the examination of lung disease, 120 Penn street.

Nothing to Supercede

Nitrous Oxide for extracting teeth without pain. Dr. Sill says that Ether Spray is tending to be so popular is rather cooling. Rhigolene has the same objections. Gas is preferable in all cases, being free from danger, and the least painful, and gives the best satisfaction. Those best acquainted with Drs. Sill and Gillespie know 246 Penn street to be no humbug of an establishment. They give teeth from $10 and up.

ADDITIONAL FOREIGN ADVICES.

Frankfort Threatened with Pillage if the Demand for 25,000,000 Florins is not Complied With—Intervention of France and England Implored—Frankfort Chamber Prefers to Submit to Pillage.

NEW YORK, August 6.—The following foreign advices by the steamer Germania, which arrived to-day. Manteuffel insists on the immediate payment of Frankfort, threatening to deliver Frankfort up to pillage, in the event of non compliance. The Bowery warehouses were closed. Frankfort Chamber refuses to pay the 25,000,000 florins, and prefer submitting to pillage. The city has solicited the intervention of Napoleon and the English Cabinet. The Patrie says the terms of the armistice as regards Italy stipulates for the occupation of Verona, by Italian troops.

A telegram from Brunn says: On marching from Brunn the Prussian army discovered in front in every direction only pickets of the enemy's cavalry, who retired as the Prussians advanced. The bridges across the Shaisa and March were restored by the Prussians in twenty-four hours. The Mondel brigade, which had intrenched itself in Lundenberg, has evacuated that town without resistance, and proceeded South.

During the few days preceding the occupation of Goding by the Prussians, thirty-nine trains, heavily freighted with troops, passed through that town for the South. The last six trains conveyed soldiers of the Saxon army. The vanguard of the Second Reserve corps has arrived at Hof, in Bavaria, by forced marches. They took sixty prisoners, and immediately commenced restoring the railway communications.

THE CHOLERA.

Fourteen New Cases in Philadelphia—The Scourge in New York and Brooklyn.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.—The reports to the Board of Health up to noon to-day show that there are fourteen new cases of cholera, three of which were fatal. The reports embrace Saturday and Sunday. The number of deaths from cholera during the week ending Saturday, was 47.

NEW ORLEANS, August 6.—Since August 1st, there has been eleven deaths by cholera, in Charity Hospital. Eminent physicians pronounce it of malignant type. There are five cases in Charity Hospital, and their recovery is expected. The cases are yet sporadic, they arrived by steamers Mariposa, Gen. Grant and New York.

NEW YORK, August 6.—Twenty cases and four deaths by cholera in this city, and eight cases and one death in Brooklyn, were reported up to noon to-day.

ST. LOUIS, August 6.—Some twenty cases of cholera have been reported to the Board of Health since Saturday, mainly persons from the South. Several deaths have occurred. The general sanitary condition of the city is unusually good, and no serious apprehension is felt of the disease becoming epidemic.

FROM NEW YORK.

The Visit of New York Bankers and Brokers to Washington on Financial Business—The "Tribune" on the Public Debt.

NEW YORK, August 6.—The Herald calls attention to the delegation of New York bankers and brokers, which has visited Washington for the purpose of urging certain reforms in the financial policy of the Government, and views sharply the conduct of the Secretary of the Treasury.

The Tribune, alluding to the public debt statement, has the following remarks: "On one point Secretary McCulloch will not permit us to understand him. Why he should persist in keeping so large an amount as $137,117,332 in the Treasury, while he is paying interest on $118,665,470 of temporary loan, is our standing perplexity; and now when the heavy income tax is about to come in, his doing it seems to us a grave misdemeanor. He ought to have paid off at least $100,000,000 more than he did up to the 1st inst., thereby decreasing by some $5,000,000, the annual interest of the debt, and bringing its principal below $2,700,000,000."

Insurrection Suppressed.

BOSTON, Aug. 6.—A mercantile letter dated Peurto Principe, July 13th, states that the recent insurrection at Gonaives has been entirely suppressed by the government, and the town given up to the regular authorities. The troops of President Geffrard marched from St. Marie to Gonaives, which town they surrounded, and acting in conjunction with the Haytien gunboat Galatia, compelled the insurgents to surrender. A free pardon will be extended to all except three members of the provisional government.

Fire at Norfolk—Explosion of a Shell.

FORTRESS MONROE, August 4.—A fire broke out at midnight yesterday, in Norfolk, in a building at the corner of William and Talbot streets, and before it could be subdued it spread to the hall of the Norfolk Light Artillery Blues, destroying both buildings.

While a party of negroes were in the act of breaking up a loaded shell on the beach, near this place, for the purpose of selling it for old iron, it suddenly exploded and seriously wounded two of them.

Interesting Discussion in Parliament.

DETAILED ACCOUNT OF THE RIOTS.

Austrian and Prussian Peace Negotiations.

NEW YORK, August 6.—The steamer City of Boston reached this port this evening. From our files we have the following additional particulars of events announced previously by the Cable.

In the House of Commons, on the 23d ult., Mr. White asked whether, looking to the conspicuous good faith and friendly feelings of the Government of the United States towards Great Britain, in its recent conduct to the Fenians, Her Majesty's Government were now prepared to submit all claims and matters in dispute between the two powers to an arbitration mutually acceptable.

Lord Stanley said that he quite agreed with the honorable member as to the good faith and honorable feeling shown by the Government of the United States in regard to the Fenian conspiracy. The Government felt most anxious to remove any feelings of irritation which might still remain in connection with these matters, but he was afraid he could not give as positive an answer as the honorable member desired. These matters had been already discussed by the late Government, and the discussion had terminated, and during the short time he had been in office those claims had not been urged. It was the intention of the Government to issue a royal commission to inquire into the operations of the neutrality laws, and what alterations might be necessary in them. He could only further say that if these claims were again urged, the Government would give them the most favorable consideration.

In both houses of Parliament, on the 24th, the subject of the riots in Hyde Park gave rise to long discussions. In the House of Commons the Home Secretary defended the conduct of the authorities, and said the matter of right to admittance to the parks had been previously decided.

A commission was issued by the late Government, who inquired fully into the subject, and completely disposed of the use of the parks for any purpose contrary to the regulations issued for their management. Counsel had given the opinion that the authorities had power to close the gates and to exclude persons attempting to force an entrance, and to eject persons preaching or playing instruments of music, although they might not be creating a disturbance. This being the case, he felt that the parks ought not to be used for political demonstrations and religious agitations, and until he was corrected by Parliament, he should still hold that it was his duty to prevent them.

Mr. Oliphant said, the Government had taken the most certain means to provide a disturbance. He hoped that the honorable gentlemen on the Government side would take warning, and feel that if they persisted in closing the gates of the Constitution, the people would pull down the palings of the Constitution, as they did the palings of the park the previous evening.

Mr. Bright, just before the riots, wrote the following to the Secretary of the Reform League:

Rochdale, July 21. Dear Sir:—I thank your Council for the invitation to the meeting intended to be held in Hyde Park on Monday next. I cannot leave home for some days to come, and therefore cannot be in London on the 23d instant. I see that the Chief of the metropolitan police force has announced his intention to prevent the holding of the meeting. It appears from this the people may meet in the parks for every purpose but that which ought to be most important and most dear to them. To meet in the streets is inconvenient, and to meet in parks is unlawful. This is the theory of the police authorities of the metropolis. You have asserted your right to meet on Primrose Hill and Trafalgar Square. I hope, after Monday next, no one will doubt your right to meet in Hyde Park. If a public meeting in a public park is denied you, and if millions of intelligent and honest men are denied the franchise, on what foundation does our liberty rest, or is there, in the country, any liberty but the toleration of the ruling class? This is a serious question, gentlemen, and it is necessary to ask it, and some answer must be given to it. I am yours, very respectfully,

(Signed.) JOHN BRIGHT.

Mr. Baillie Cochrane, in severe terms condemned Mr. Bright's letter.

Mr. Layard said that the measures of the Government were most injudicious. It must be recollected that the people had been taunted with their apathy for reform, and these taunts the artisans had [illegible] deeply, and they asked to hold a meeting at the West End, to show the fallacy of this belief. As it was, the Government had done all in their power to invite the rabble to take advantage of the meeting of the artisans and create a row.

Mr. Stuart Mill said that while lawyers had laid down that people had a right to hold meetings in the parks, but he did not lay any stress upon that, for if the people had not the right they ought to have it, and permission ought to have been given when applied for. Such meetings as these, if held once a month, were not nearly so great an interruption of the use of the parks as a military or a volunteer review. The honorable gentlemen opposite had excited a feeling the previous night, which it would take all their wisdom for years to allay. The most zealous reformers were most anxious to prevent a collision between the governing classes and the people, but there were persons who would do infinitely more mischief in one hour than an age could repair.

After some remarks from Mr. D'Israeli, the subject was dropped.

The Times says there is a prospect of Parliament being called upon, before the close of the session, to make arrangements for fulfilling the understanding entered into between the North-western Provinces and the late ministry for a guarantee of 1,000,000 pounds for the construction of the Intercolonial railway line from Halifax.

About fifty persons were charged before the police magistrates with offenses in connection with the riots. Some were sentenced to a month's imprisonment with hard labor, and others to fines of forty shillings. About twenty persons had been attended in the hospitals for injuries received during the riots.

The Times, of the 25th, says: Yesterday the rioting began again. Crowds congregated in Hyde Park and again attacked the police with stones and brickbats. They tore up the shrubs, broke off branches from the trees, and wrought a devastation to the Park which it will take some time to restore. As night approached the attack on private houses was resumed. The windows of the Athenaeum Club were smashed, for what reason it is not easy to conceive. In other streets, near the Park, similar outrages were committed. Several of the police are said to be badly hurt on this, the second night of the riot, and the services of the guards, both horse and foot, have been required to overawe the crowd. After leaving the Park on Monday, gangs of ruffians broke the windows in Great Cumberland street. At one o'clock in the morning two hundred or three hundred were engaged in the work of devastation. Others of the rioters went southwards, and the Lord Chancellor's windows shared the fate of those on the other side of the Park. Complete quiet was not restored in the London streets until almost morning.

The Times admits that Mr. Walpole and Sir Richard Mayne have acted unwisely, as it has turned out they believe that an interference with the meeting under the people gathered in the park would lead to serious disturbances, and they concluded that the shortest way would be to prevent the meeting assembling at all. It was an error in police generalship, but made in perfect good faith, and with the best intention of doing right.

The Times asks where all this is to end, and calls upon members on both sides of the House to support the Executive in repressing the disturbance.

The Daily News says that if the reform meeting had been allowed to take place in Hyde Park, it would have done no harm and made no noise.

The Star and Telegraph denounce the conduct of the authorities with great bitterness.

There was much reason to fear that the cholera had invaded England in earnest. The outbreaks at Liverpool and Southampton had assumed a decided character. The disease had also appeared at the east end of London. Three hundred and forty-six deaths from cholera were reported in the returns for the week ending July 21st. Nearly all the cases occurred at the east end of London. Its existence had been officially recognized by the Privy Council, which has just issued two orders, in pursuance of the powers granted under the so-called disease prevention act. These orders contain regulations to be enforced in the metropolis, and in all unions and parishes of England, and in all parts and arms of the sea under the jurisdiction of the Admiralty. That, with regard to the metropolis, directs that the board or vestry in a parish where cholera or diarrhea may exist, to meet daily with the view of carrying regulations into force. Authority was being given to them for the appointment of necessary medical officers for various purposes, including a daily house to house visitation among the poorer classes, and giving the necessary immediate medical assistance to such.

A Florence telegram of the 22d ult., says the conditions placed by Italy to her acceptance of the armistice, and communicated to Prussia and France, particularly with respect to the Tyrol, have not yet been accepted by Austria.

According to the Italie, the commanders of the Italian army have declared no suspension of hostilities can take place between Austria and Italy before the present military movement had been completed, and the Italian army corps had secured a safe and regular position.

It was stated from Vienna that the five days' armistice between the Austrian and Prussian armies commenced at noon on the 22d of July.

The French Government officially announced on the 23d that Austria had accepted the preliminaries of peace submitted by Prussia, and that the plenipotentiaries had assembled at the Prussian headquarters in order to negotiate an armistice. The definite reply of Italy was expected, but that power had already admitted in principle the preliminaries of peace.

The Moniteur of the 24th announces that Italy has agreed to the suspension of hostilities.

It had not been decided on the 24th where the conference for the treaty of peace would take place, but a small neutral town in Germany would probably be selected.

It had been asserted that the Princes, dispossessed of their dominions by the Prussians, propose holding a common conference for the protection of their respective interests.

The Times says peace may be looked upon as virtually concluded. Austria [illegible] a [illegible] combatant. She recognizes the dissolution of the former German bund, and consents to the organization of a new confederacy, from which she is to be excluded. It is an immense event. Prussia made a bid for half Germany. She will have no little trouble to keep clear of the other half. Germany, to all intents and purposes, henceforth is one.

At latest reports the Prussians were still being concentrated on the march before Vienna.

In Venetia and the Tyrol severe skirmishing was daily taking place, but reports were very contradictory.

The Times correspondent at Berlin says: Whatever the terms of the armistice may be, the Southern League does not seem to share the benefits, as about forty thousand Prussians had set out from Frankfort with orders to occupy Stuttgart, and perhaps Carlsruhe.

An account of the naval engagement between the Austrian and Italian fleets, dated Straits of Sissa, July 20th, has been received at Florence. The Austrian squadron, not having made its appearance, as expected, on the evening of the 18th, some of our iron clad vessels forced their way yesterday into the port of Saint Georges. That morning disembarkation commenced, when it was signalled that the enemy's squadron was in sight. The Italian fleet put out to meet them, and a battle commenced. Admiral Persano hoisted his flag on the Affondatore and bore down on the Austrian fleet under a heavy fire. The stern of the Austrian Admiral's vessel was destroyed. The fight was very severe. We lost the iron clad Re D'Italia, which the Admiral had left, and which sank from a collision with the enemy at the commencement of the battle. The ironclad gunboat and Palestro caught fire. The commander and crew refused to leave the vessel. She blew up amidst their cries of "long live the King," and "long live Italy." No other vessel was lost nor fell into the possession of the enemy.

The Admiral renewed the attack on the Austrian squadron, which retired to Lesina, without waiting for our fleet to come up, and the Austrians continuing their retreat, the Italian squadron remained mistress of the scene of action.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.

Steamer Gen. Lythe Blown Up, Passengers Say While Racing—Fifteen or Eighteen Persons Lost.

LOUISVILLE, Aug. 6.—Madison, Ind., Aug. 6.—The steamer Gen. Lythe blew up near Bethlehem, this p. m. The passengers say she was racing with the St. Charles when the explosion took place. Both boats were close together. The St. Charles brought the wounded and dead to this city. Not more than fifteen or eighteen persons are lost. The officers of the St. Charles deny the charge that the boats were racing. The St. Charles rendered every assistance possible. The Lythe is a total wreck.

Kentucky Elections.

LOUISVILLE, August 6.—Harrodsville gives Duvall 58, Hobson 19. Claysville—Duvall 142, Hobson 12. Christiansville—Duvall 175, Hobson 40. Paris—Duvall's majority 24. [illegible]—Duvall 100, Hobson 72. Crab Orchard—Duvall's majority 12; in Lincoln county 300. Stanford—Duvall's majority 100. Lebanon precinct—Duvall 201, Hobson 166. Duvall's majority in the county is estimated at about 300. [illegible]—Duvall 75, Hobson 54.

New Haven, Dawson's Precinct—Hobson 25, Duvall 19. New Haven—Hobson 21, Duvall 22. Lagrange—Duvall 340 majority in this town and county. Bowling Green—Seven precincts give Hobson 141, Duvall 528, two more precincts to hear from. The county will give Duvall about 700 majority. Russellville precinct—Duvall's majority is 82. There are indications that the county will give Duvall 1,000 majority and the Democratic county ticket be elected.

LOUISVILLE, August 6, 11:45 P. M.—Duvall beats Hobson, as clerk of Court of Appeals, sixteen hundred in the city and about eight hundred in the county.

Reports from the country indicate Duvall's majority in the State from ten to twenty thousand.

Johnson, Ex-secretary of Jeff Davis, candidate for County Clerk, is beaten in the city by seven hundred majority.

Woolen Mills Burned.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 6.—Edward S. Harris' woolen mill No. 4, in Woonsocket, took fire in the carding room this morning, and burnt till 11 o'clock, and so rapid was the spread of the flames that the operators were compelled to save themselves by jumping from the windows, and many were burnt. The walls of the mill were not much damaged. The loss will be pretty heavy.

New Orleans Market.

NEW ORLEANS, August 6.—Cotton quiet, 75 bales; Low Middling, at 33@35. To-day's receipts [illegible]. Sugar fair at 12@13. New York Exchange [illegible] Discount. Bank Sterling 50. Weather extremely warm, thermometer stood at 3 p. m. 95 degrees in the shade; interior advices report cotton doing finely.

Masonic Celebration in Mexico.

WASHINGTON, August 6.—Information has been received here that at a recent celebration of the Mexican Masons in the City of Mexico, a toast was offered, amid great acclamation, for the speedy re-establishment of the Republic and the complete success of their brother, Benito Juarez.

No Dispatches by Cable.

ASPY BAY, August 7—1 o'clock A. M.—There are no signs of the steamer Dauntless with the cable dispatches. She will probably arrive here about 6 o'clock this morning with the dispatches received through the cable on Sunday and Monday.

Outcasts on Account of Caste.

The Boston correspondent of the Chicago [Ill.] Tribune tells the following story:

"Among the visitors whom the summer has brought to Boston is a Liberian family of wealth and position, proposing to travel through America, and, expecting certainly to find a hospitable welcome in Boston, if nowhere else. They travel in luxurious style, accompanied by their servants, several degrees blacker than themselves. They stopped here at the Marlborough Hotel, recommended to them as the most liberal in the city. But after a stay of only one day, they were called on by the landlord and informed that he could not permit them to sit at his public table, on account of the prejudices of his customers. He generously offered to send meals to their rooms; but this exclusion, the proud spirit of the Liberians could not brook, and they left the house. Not another place in the fanatical city of Boston could be found to shelter them, and they sought refuge in a boarding house at Salem. Even here the spirit of caste pursued them, and the pressure from her other guests has compelled the landlady to ask them to sit at a second and separate table. They are both astonished and grieved at this display of popular sentiment in what they expected to find a democratic locality. Being told, and truly, that a far worse treatment would meet them at Niagara, White Mountains, and other resorts of fashion and conservatism, they are contemplating, I believe, an immediate return to their own country from a land which offers them nothing but insults."

The Alleged Robber Arrested.—Justice W. H. Barker, of South Pittsburgh, yesterday committed to jail one Charles Brown, who is accused of being the person who burglariously entered the houses of Eli Wycoff and William Voigt, located respectively in the boroughs of South Pittsburgh and Mount Washington, on the night of the 21st of July last, and robbed them of considerable sums of money. The accused was committed for trial.

Will Probably Escape.—The murderers of Caroline Ford, the colored girl who was outraged and killed at Sewickley, a short time since, have not yet been discovered. The murder continues veiled in the deepest mystery, and it is probable the guilty perpetrators will never be brought to justice.

Steamboat Sold.—At Marshal's sale, yesterday, the steamboat Spray was purchased by Captain W. B. Donaldson, of the late steamer Dictator, for the sum of eight thousand dollars.

The Iron-Clad Building Nuisance—Decision by Judge Stowe

What are called "iron-clad buildings," frame work covered with sheet iron, have been erected in considerable number in the city, with and without permission of Councils, within a few years. An effort was made by the authorities to interfere in their erection, but without success, as it appears. Mr. W. W. Wallace, for putting up such a structure in the city, was indicted, among others, and charged, first, "with unlawfully and injuriously building and erecting a certain work-shop or building, not entirely composed of incombustible material," etc., and second, "with causing to be erected a certain wooden shop and building," contrary to acts of Assembly and ordinances of the city. Upon the trial a special verdict was rendered, the Court being left to decide as matter of law, and under the facts, whether the defendant was guilty as indicted. Judge Stowe delivered the opinion of the Court, a few days since, reciting the Act of Assembly and city ordinances on the subject, and deciding that the ordinance upon which the indictment was based, being without legal authority and void, the defendant had not done an act in violation of law, and therefore was not guilty.

Under the authority of an Act of Assembly, passed April 10th, 1826, the City Councils passed an ordinance prohibiting the erection within certain limits any "wooden mansion, house, shop, warehouse, store, carriage house, or stable." This ordinance, on July 5th, 1845, was made apply to the whole city, and parties convicted of violating it, "upon indictment in the Mayor's Court of the City of Pittsburgh," were "adjudged to pay a fine of five hundred dollars." In 1850, however, the Supreme Court decided the ordinance to include nothing more than what was in an ordinary sense wooden buildings, and not to extend to buildings composed partly of brick and partly of wood or frame, commonly known as brick-frame. On May 31, 1855, Councils ordained that no "mansion house, warehouse, shop, store, carriage house or stable, whose walls are not entirely composed of incombustible material, shall be erected or built," also providing that the ordinance should not be construed to prohibit the use of wooden columns in lower stories of warehouses, &c. The question arose whether the Councils had a right to pass this ordinance. Judge Stowe decided not, and says: "The only authority they had in the premises arose under the Act of Assembly of 1826, and as that only authorized them to prohibit the erection of wooden buildings, any ordinance going beyond that is absolutely void to that extent." The Supreme Court, in 1850, in deciding the ordinance passed under the act of 1826, to include nothing more than wooden buildings in the ordinary sense, not buildings known as brick-frame, said "to reach cases (not falling within the meaning of wooden buildings,) it will be necessary for the corporation of Pittsburgh to procure from the Legislature another Act of Assembly, and to pass another ordinance." The ordinance was passed, (May 31, 1855,) but the Act of Assembly was neglected or forgotten, consequently the ordinance was void, and no embargo, as was supposed, exists upon "iron-clad buildings."

Accident to the Duquesne

The Duquesne steam fire engine and hose carriage met with an accident last night, during the false alarm of fire, that will probably retire them both from service for a short time. The facts as we learn them are as follows. In front of McCallum's new building on Fifth street, is an immense iron arch, which is intended to surmount the heavy iron columns of the front of the building. This arch is laid transversely across the street, so that between the end towards Smithfield street, and the brick pile on the opposite side, there is about twelve feet space left for passage. The place was quite dark, and the company were drawing the engine at the top of their speed, when one of the foremost men came in contact with the end of the iron arch, by which he suffered several severe contusions. The new wheels of the engine, on the right hand side, furnished but a few days since by the Amoskeag company, caught the end of the arch, breaking them very badly, and completely demolishing the handsome silver plated hubs, which were lost in the confusion. A few moments after the hose carriage came along, and met with a similar fate. Both will have to be repaired before they can be used again, and some person will have to foot a bill of damages. There is no excuse for leaving the arch in the position it was last night. There is plenty of room for it next to the pavement. Had the engine been drawn by horses, one of them would inevitably have been killed. We are requested to ask any person who may find the hubs of the engine this morning, to return them to the Duquesne Engine House.

Gala Day for the Good Intents

The members of the Good Intent Fire Company, of the sixth ward, are making arrangements for holding their annual picnic, at [illegible] Grove, on the 29th inst. Although last on the list—all the other companies having either given their picnics or will have given them before that date—the Good Intents will not be least in the way of affording pleasure and amusement to those who may attend their demonstration. They are also equally deserving of encouragement from citizens, and we trust they may realize sufficient to materially add to their efficiency as a fire organization. Among the list of managers we notice the names of Capt. Robert McCready, P. D. Donahue, Wm. Kane and George Ward, active members.

Disorder at Iron City Park

Yesterday evening, on the turnpike opposite the Iron City Park, a number of youths, ten or a dozen in number, in their exuberant spirits after enjoyment at a picnic, indulged in a free fight, which had more the semblance of a riot. Some five or six of the participants lay prostrate from the effect of blows and intoxication combined, while others continued the engagement, throwing stones from a pile conveniently located. A gentleman, passing in a barouche with his family, was obliged to halt, and looked on for a time at the combat, which finally ceased through sheer exhaustion of those engaged in it. One innocent spectator was struck with a stone on the back of the head, and, it was thought, seriously injured. We did not learn his name.

Heard From

A short time since, a young lady of this city left her home in one of the upper wards, under circumstances that led her parents to suppose she had eloped. The authorities were apprised of the affair, and they immediately set to work to learn with whom she had cast her lot, and where she had chosen to dwell. Their labors were rewarded yesterday by a telegraph dispatch from Oil City to Chief Hague, informing him that the young lady was at Petroleum Centre, in company with a young man formerly of this city, with whom she was living as his wife. Steps have been taken to bring the erratic pair home, but what is intended to be done in the matter after that, we cannot even surmise.

Oil Refinery Burned—Man Injured

About nine o'clock last night a fire broke out in Wormser & Phillips' oil refinery, situated on the line of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, in the borough of Lawrenceville. The alarm was promptly given, but before the flames could be stayed the entire establishment, with a considerable quantity of oil, was consumed. George H. Moore, an employee in the works, was severely injured by the explosion of the oil, his face, head and arms being severely burned. He was taken to his home, on Carson street, Lawrenceville, where his injuries were very skillfully dressed by Dr. W. R. Childs, who entertains a strong hope of his recovery.

On the Rampage.

Two young men, named William Devine and John Richardson, visited a notorious house known as "Fort Hell," on Overhill street, yesterday afternoon, and in the absence of any other amusement, commenced to beat the occupants of the house without regard to sex or persons. They added terror to their presence by brandishing knives, and threatening to kill any one who should interfere with their programme. The disturbance attracted the attention of a couple of special police, who expeditiously transferred Richardson and Devine to the tombs. They will have a hearing to-day.

Teachers' Examinations.—Prof. A. T. Douthett, Superintendent of Public Schools for the County, announces an examination for teachers to be held at McKeesport, on Monday next. Mr. Douthett is kept very busy at this season with examinations, and his duties are laborious and trying; in fact, we know of no public servant who labors so faithfully. The educational community have reason to be thankful that he has been chosen to so responsible a position, as he combines with fine educational abilities all the stamina of character essential to the proper discharge of the duties devolving upon him as Superintendent.

Belligerent Wife.—Benjamin Aikens appeared before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, and made oath against his wife, Mary Aiken, and her sister, Anna McBride, for assault. The deponent alleged that the accused picked up sundry weapons, among others a poker, and threatened to do him personal violence. The parties reside in the rear of 600 Penn street. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the women.

Publication of Income Tax.—The income tax of citizens of this District have been furnished the press for publication. We trust our readers will not attribute to us a lack of enterprise since we refuse to publish to the world the private pecuniary affairs of our merchants and tradesmen. The publication does no good and may do much mischief.

Inquest.—An inquest was held on the body of Millard Herron, the boy who was killed near the village of Hatfield on Sunday afternoon, by being run over by car No. 8, of the Citizens passenger railway. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death, the cause being ascribed to carelessness on the part of the deceased.

Ferocious Dog.—Francis Herron charged John Friend, yesterday, before Alderman Taylor, with keeping a ferocious dog. It appears the canine alluded to bit Kate Keer, a servant in Herron's employ. Friend gave bail for trial.

102d Society.—Members of the 102d P. V. Society will hold a meeting at the Firemen's Association Rooms this evening.

The Union County Executive Committee and Federal Office Holders—Letter from the United States District Attorney.

PITTSBURGH, August 2, 1866.

JOHN W. RIDDELL, Esq., Chairman Union Republican Executive Committee.

SIR: I have received a circular letter under date of August 1st, instant, communicating a copy of resolutions unanimously adopted by the Committee of which you are Chairman, and requesting an early reply to the inquiry propounded in the resolutions. The latter are as follows:

Resolved, By the Union Republican Committee of Allegheny county, that a circular be addressed to all of our Federal office holders of the 22d and 23d districts, inquiring whether they are willing to co-operate with this Committee in promoting, by their influence and votes, the election of Major General John W. Geary and the success of the Union Republican Congressional and County Tickets.

"Resolved, That a reply in writing, addressed to the Chairman of this Committee, be requested within ten days from this date."

I am not aware that the opinions of an individual in office are entitled to any more consideration than those of any other person of equal character, information and judgment. Waiving, however, any implication of doubtful fidelity to the Union Republican Party, which may or might be drawn from the fact and form of the scrutiny proposed, I am willing to assume that the inquiry is made in good faith, and therefore entitled to a prompt and candid response. I answer that I am in favor of the election of General John W. Geary, to the office of Governor of this State, at the approaching election; that I shall vote for, and promote his election by all the influence in my power, and I am entirely willing to co-operate with your Committee and other proper agencies which may be employed in that interest, and to secure that result.

I shall, also, give a like cordial support to the Congressional and county tickets of the Union Republican party of this county.

The above, it is hoped, will leave no doubt, if any existed, as to my political position in the approaching campaign, and is submitted as an answer to the inquiry of the Committee.

I have confidence, unabated confidence in the Republican party, and repose all my hopes for the salvation of the country, under Providence, in that great and patriotic organization. I have not for one moment forgotten that it saved the country in the hour of her mortal peril. That without the loyal and noble efforts and services of the men, soldiers and citizens, who supported President Lincoln during the rebellion, and carried the Presidential election of 1864, under the weight of conscriptions and heavy taxes, and when a wail of woe was wafted on every breeze, against the sinister efforts of those who denounced the war as a failure, and every necessary repressive measure as unconstitutional and tyrannical, we would not now have any Government—any country. I continue to trust this patriotic organization, and will be the last to desert it.

Your Committee will render a substantial service to the country by counseling and practising moderation, by advising an abatement of an unreasonable radical spirit, and employing your official functions and personal influence in promoting peace and harmony in the ranks of the party.

Yours, respectfully,
R. B. CARNAHAN,
United States District Attorney.

A New Invention.

Since our advent into this planet, replete with wonders, we never have yet seen a piece of mechanism so wonderful, useful and beautiful as that we were shown yesterday at No. 58 Fourth street. The object of our wonderment consists of an oil stove, about eighteen inches high, in the form of a turret, to the bottom of which is affixed an ordinary lamp, the wick of which is made to surround a circular tube of about three inches in heighth, which, being hollow and perforated on all sides, will allow a full current of air to pass up through the centre of the flame, thus supplying oxygen sufficient to destroy the smoke and all obnoxious gaseous matter. The whole arrangement is the very perfection of simplicity, and if it does not become a general favorite with our housewives, before a great while, it will surprise us very much. The chief advantage of this stove, above all other oil stoves, is, that the heat can be regulated to whatever temperature is desired by simply turning a screw. With one of these stoves, which can be set upon a drawing room table without soiling or doing any injury to the furniture, a dinner, including a large baking, can be cooked in less than an hour. For ironing, broiling, or baking, they are par excellence in every respect. In fact they combine all the great essentials that go to make up a complete stove, while they are of a portable character and can be carried for miles under one's arm without wearying. Besides all these benefits accruing from their use, they are economisers, requiring but half the amount of money to keep them in fuel that an ordinary coal stove.

In addition to the stove just described, we were also shown six different stoves of different patterns, and a lamp called the Aladdin Vapor Gas Lamp, which, at an expense of [illegible] cents, will illuminate a large sized exhibition room for an entire evening, with all the brilliancy of gas.

It would be impossible to inform our readers of all the many beauties connected with this lamp. The only way to form a fair idea of its availability, under all circumstances, is to call at the exhibition room, No. 58 Fourth street, and inspect it thoroughly. Those fond of examining ingenious contrivances, cannot fail to be entertained and instructed, by paying this room a visit. Really, there is more strange things in this world of ours, than is dreamt of in ordinary philosophy.

Philadelphia University of Medicine and Surgery.

The trustees and faculty of the above Medical College have issued "scholarships" at seventy-five dollars each, which entitles the holders to attend lectures until graduation, or as many sessions as he wishes.

This renders a medical education cheaper than ever proposed by any University or College in this country or Europe, possessing the same extensive facilities.

The facilities of the University are: First, it has the largest College edifice in the city; second, the best amphitheater and lecture halls in the United States; third, the best dissecting rooms; fourth, extensive chemical and philosophical apparatus; fifth, the materia medica embraces all the medicines used by all classes of physicians; sixth, the museum consists of a most extensive collection of anatomical and pathological specimens. In all, there are fifty-three rooms in the College.

There are sixteen Professors and every branch of Medicine and Surgery is thoroughly taught.

The student holding a "scholarship" can enter the college at any time during the Lectures, attend as long as he wishes, and re-enter the Institution as frequently as desired.

Persons wishing to obtain scholarships can apply to L. Oldshue, M. D., Professor of Urine Pathology in the above-mentioned College. His office and residence is No. 132 Grant street, Pittsburgh Pa.

How Have the Mighty Fallen.

An Italian named Michael Dellatani, engaged in the artistic occupation of transforming plaster of Paris into miniature Napoleons and Garabaldis, met an individual named James Horn in an alley in the rear of the Red Lion Hotel yesterday, who immediately proceeded to demonstrate to Michael's great disgust that there was some fight even in a Horn. The artist's version of the affair is this. He was passing through the alley endeavoring to dispose of his productions, when Horn called him a nigger. Having undeniable evidence that he was a Caucassian, and that the utterance of Horn was false, he called his traducer by a title that implied a doubt of his (Horn's) veracity. Thereupon the latter knocked him down and kicked him and his plaster of Paris heroes into the gutter. The consequence is that the heroes of Austerlitz and Palermo were not worth a cent. Horn was arrested, but gave bail for a hearing to-day.

Bail Piece.—Michael Leonard, the individual accused of having been discovered in the possession of plates, from which it was designed to manufacture counterfeit notes on the Citizens' Bank of this city, and released by Alderman Strain on bail in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance for trial, was surrendered by his surety, Mr. W. F. Richardson, and a bail piece lodged against him—having, subsequent to his release by Alderman Strain, been arrested and committed on a warrant from United States Commissioner McCandless, on a charge of possessing tools for the manufacture of bogus United States coin.

Draft Resistant Relieved.—John C. Murray, charged with resisting the draft, was convicted at the May term, 1865, of the United States District Court, and recommended to mercy. When called for sentence he failed to answer, and his recognizance was forfeited. Yesterday, in the United States Court, on motion of the District Attorney, a nolle pros was entered, this disposition of the case being in pursuance of action of the War Department in the premises.

Accident.—Peter Bristline, an employee in Robert Coward's brick yard, on Boyd's Hill, while digging clay, yesterday morning, was caught beneath a fall and almost buried alive. When extricated it was discovered that his right leg was somewhat crushed, but otherwise he was uninjured.

United States Court.—The United States Court—adjourned term—met yesterday at the Custom House, at eleven o'clock, Hon. Wilson McCandless on the bench. The list of grand and traverse jurors were called, a quorum of the former not answering. The Court adjourned till ten o'clock this A. M.

Alderman Butler, from whom we hear occasionally in the way of police items, yesterday committed for a further hearing to-day, on a charge of larceny, one Charles Howard, prosecuted by John Smith.

For Surety.—August Ammon, yesterday, in default of five hundred dollars bail, committed Philip Shroth to jail for surety of the peace, on complaint of Johanna Shroth.

False Pretense.—Alderman Donaldson, yesterday, jailed, in default of bail, Bernard M'Namee, on a charge of false pretense, preferred by John L. Madger.

Dead.—Morris White, long and favorably known as a city watchman, expired last night at his late home on Webster street, near High. He had been ill but a few days.

Peaches.—Peaches are very plenty in the market, but the exorbitant price at which they are held, renders them a scarce article, in most households.

"Not an Information To-day," was our salute as we made our usual visit to Alderman Strain's office last evening.

Office of the Pittsburgh Cutlery Company.

We are pleased to announce that our friend, William N. Ogden, Esq., the regularly appointed agent for this city of the Pittsburgh Cutlery Company, has opened his office in the beautiful room occupied by the telegraph office, Nos. 67 and 69 Fifth street. The importance of the company which Mr. Ogden represents is not yet fully understood by persons interested in the growth of Pittsburgh manufactures. Indeed, we doubt not but there are hundreds among our very best and most enterprising citizens—men who are keenly alive to the importance of this as a manufacturing point—who would be surprised were they informed that here are made articles of cutlery superior to the most famous of English make. Yet such is the fact. The knives, scissors and other articles of cutlery manufactured by the Pittsburgh company, are vastly superior, in quality and finish, to any ever imported. As pioneers in the trade, this company have spared neither trouble or expense to enable them to compete with foreign manufacturers, and to produce such articles as will eventually direct here the trade now in a measure drawn to Europe. It was true that American cutlery had never proven equal to that made in Britain, and it remained with Pittsburgh to set aside the well founded prejudice [illegible] manufactured articles. The company have in successful operation at Rochester, [illegible] which are very extensive, and contain the most approved and delicate of machinery. Only the best of mechanics are employed, and in every department the work is performed with the same degree of care and precision which is proverbial with the famous Sheffield works in England. The demand for Pittsburgh cutlery has been so great of late that the erection of new works was necessitated, and at the present time there is in progress of building a mammoth water power establishment at New Brighton. After this is completed, the company will be able to devote attention to the manufacture of all descriptions of tools and hardware. We advise our readers to drop in and examine the specimens exhibited by Mr. Ogden. They will there find every description of knives from the tiny pocket knife to the huge keen-edged cleaver. The prices are very moderate, in fact, marvelously cheap, in comparison with those of foreign articles of cutlery. As a matter of city pride every person should have in his pocket a knife made at home, particularly when they are sold so cheap. Mr. Ogden will either sell wholesale or retail, and city merchants or country dealers should by all means favor him with their patronage. He is ever ready to display his goods to all who may call, and will be found a fair dealing, honorable gentleman in every way worthy the patronage of the community.

No Cases Reported.—As yet no deaths from cholera have been noted in the weekly report of the Board of Health Physician, but we understand there will be in his next.

Will be Executed.—M'Connell, the Olmstead murderer, will be executed in Cleveland on Friday next. He is busily engaged in making preparations to meet his God.

DIED.

BOLE—On Monday morning, at 3 o'clock, ROBERT JAMES, youngest son of Hugh M. and Mary A. Bole, aged [illegible] years 1 month and 1 day.

OPENING OF THE CAMPAIGN.

It will be seen by turning to our advertising columns, that it is proposed by the Republican County Committee, to open the political campaign on to-morrow evening, in the City Hall. The speakers announced for the occasion are the Hon. A. J. HAMILTON, Provisional Governor of Texas; the Hon. GALUSHA A. GROW, of Venango County, the Hon. JOHN W. FORNEY, of Philadelphia, and the Hon. LEWIS W. HALL, of Altoona. It is confidently expected that no disappointment will occur in consequence of the non-attendance of either of these gentlemen. From this array of names, eminent for high abilities and large experience, a massive and exhaustive discussion of the national situation may be anticipated.

Mr. HAMILTON has had almost unequalled opportunities for ascertaining, by personal intercourse and observation, the actual condition of Southern feeling and opinion. Possessing large oratorical powers, animated by unquestioned loyalty, and controlled by an unfailing candor, his presentation of facts will be of the greatest value. Colonel FORNEY has been at Washington, under circumstances enabling him to form a sound judgment of the motives and intentions of the President and his advisers; and is as able as he is fearless in exposing the plots connected with that counter movement by which the reinstatement of the rebel leaders in political authority is contemplated. Mr. GROW has been in public life for many years—longer than most of his contemporaries—and has always been marked by the coolness of his judgment and the steadiness of his conduct. Mr. HALL is one of the rising young men of the Commonwealth. It has not been his fortune to participate, in an official capacity in national affairs. His public services have been confined to this State. But the fact that he has been twice called to preside over the Senate, shows that he has developed striking qualities and achieved an enviable position.

With such intellectual inducements, superadded to the gravity of the national crises, there can be no doubt of a demonstration worthy of the Republicans of Allegheny county, and the cause to which they are devoted.

CENTRALIZATION.

Some individuals—prone to abstract speculations, and accepters of the theory that "that government is best which governs least"—have expressed alarm lest Congress, in its solicitude to re-establish the Union on a basis of security and permanence, should forget or discard the just distribution of political powers between the national and State authorities, and furnish a precedent for centralization that might work incalculable mischief, both now and hereafter. Strange enough, these individuals, almost without exception, lean towards the President, as against Congress, and seem to regard the Executive as a sort of break-water to withstand encroachments by the legislative bodies. It is charitable to conclude that these individuals have been spectators of momentous events without analysing the cause from which they sprung or considering the ends to which they tended.

When the rebel armies succumbed, the President assumed almost boundless authority. He proceeded to abolish the State government then existing. He issued his proclamations as President of the United States, and Commander-in-Chief of the armies thereof, dismissing the regularly elected Governors, and appointing Provisional Governors in their places; empowering these Provisional Governors to appoint judges and lesser magistrates, sheriffs, clerks of courts, and all other needful functionaries. He directed these Governors to convoke Constitutional Conventions. He adjudged who might and who might not vote; and dictated what the Conventions should and should not put in the new Constitutions. In all these proceedings the President did not consult Congress, nor did he allow any appeal thereto either on the part of the State organizations or the populations more immediately touched by his rescripts. He assumed imperial prerogatives, and wielded them with surprising energy.

The same contempt for State Rights—the same intolerance of limitations to his authority—are observable in his recent interferences in Louisiana. Measures had been taken to reconvene the Constitutional Convention. The immediate question is not—was such convocation legal or illegal? but simply—what right had the President to meddle with the matter? If the President should attempt to disperse or arrest the members of a Constitutional Convention duly assembled in Pennsylvania, under Proclamation of the Governor, the intrusion would be promptly resented by the whole people. If claim should be set up that the Convention was irregular and illegal, this would not justify the interference of the President; much less an appeal by him to military force. The only proceedings allowable would be an appeal to the Courts.

But the President was not content in this essential matter to mark his disregard of the rights of the States. He went farther, and in the details to which he resorted set at defiance all the rules and courtesies which had previously marked the intercourse of the National Executive with the State governments. He treated the Governor as though he was not; communicated with his subordinate officer, the Secretary of State; and even put the whole military power of the Federal Government at his command. If, in any matter of substance, the President, having occasion to communicate with the authorities of Pennsylvania, should ignore Governor CURTIN, and open correspondence with Secretary SLIFER; virtually exalt him to the headship of the Commonwealth; and subject the military forces in this department to his orders; there would be such an outburst of indignation, from all sorts and conditions of men, as would abash and confound the usurper.

The fact is manifest that the tendency to Centralization is much stronger in the President than in Congress. Many of his stretches of authority are absolutely gigantic; and unless effectually overruled by the people cannot fail of entailing permanent derangements of the whole economy of the Constitution.

GENERAL NEWS.

—The hotels of Cincinnati are not crowded.

—Highway robberies are quite fashionable in St. Louis.

—In Paris 10,000 war maps were sold in forty-eight hours after Sadowa.

—Ice is being manufactured in Louisiana and Texas at one cent per pound.

—An association for the preservation of game has been organized in St. Louis.

—Robert Campbell has purchased the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, for $520,000.

—Mr. Maguire, M. P., is engaged upon a work on the Irish in the United States.

—Katharine Luther, the last descendant of Martin Luther, died recently in France.

—The war has dispersed nearly all the vocal and instrumental solo artists in Germany.

—An Englishman by the name of Geo. Russell died in Memphis on Tuesday last from starvation.

—Prince Amadeus has recovered from the wound he received at Custozza, and resumed his post.

—That smashing scarlet four-in-hand female has fled from Saratoga. The Grand Jury indicted her.

—The health of Prince Leopold, the younger son of Queen Victoria, excites some apprehension.

—A cannibal named G. R. Smith, of Bomanville, Illinois, had a row with his wife and bit off her ear.

—The Empress of Austria and the little Archduke and Archduchess have been sent to Ofen for safety.

—Miss Harbeck, an accomplished young lady of New York, died in Paris, of cholera, on the 18th ult.

—Victoria, the Sandwich Island Princess, died from the effects of imprudently bathing while heated.

—Locomotives now pass over Cumberland bridge, renewing intercourse between Clarksville and Memphis.

—The State Prison convicts at Charlestown, Mass., have contributed $200 for the benefit of the Portland sufferers.

—Five prisoners escaped from the Nashville jail a few nights ago, by sawing through two bars in a window fronting the river.

—The receipts of the places of amusement in St. Louis during the months of March, April, May and June last, amounted to $110,683.

—The authorities of Greenville, Ala., have passed an ordinance appropriating ten per cent. of all taxes toward the support of free schools.

—A compilation of the Internal Revenue laws passed since 1861, has just been completed, and is ready for distribution by the Commissioner.

—Metamora Vallandigham to Mr. Raymond: "You have not sent for me, but I am here! Whether you want me or not, I am going to your wigwam!"

—A Southern correspondent of the New York Times figures up the probable cotton product for this season at 2,000,000 bales—more than half the crop of 1860.

—Katie Kreemer, a little girl ten years of age, was killed a day or two ago at St. Louis, by a blow upon the hip with a piece of wood in the hands of a little negro.

—Gen. J. P. C. Shanks was nominated by the Congressional Convention of the 11th district at Wabash to-day. The resolutions are radical in tone, thoroughly endorsing Congress.

—The 14th day of August, the day fixed for the assembling of the Philadelphia Convention, is the anniversary of Jeff. Davis' famous proclamation banishing all Union men from the South.

—The Washington National Monument Association are making another effort to secure contributions to finish the monument. It is estimated that it will take $2,000,000 to complete the work.

—The military prisoners confined in Castle Pickney, Charleston, S. C., under sentence of death, have had their sentences commuted to imprisonment for life at the Dry Tortugas, by President Johnson.

—Dr. Joseph Tomybee, a well known London physician, died recently, a martyr to medical science. He had been prosecuting his experiments by inhaling a combination of chloroform and prussic acid.

—Hard rubber collars are to be the next novelty. A process of bleaching rubber has been discovered, and after hardening, it can be made into collars, wristbands, etc., and the enthusiastic think they see the end of the paper collar business.

—A new and scientific way to light cigars and pipes consisting of pouring phosphorus on the end of the former, or on the tobacco in the bowl of the pipe, and by quietly breathing gently upon it, becomes incandescent, and is in a condition to light.

—Charles De Villiers has been arrested in Baltimore on a charge—which he admitted—of passing a worthless check. He is the individual of whom Colonel Ellsworth learned the famous Zouave drill, and was at one time Colonel of the 11th Ohio Infantry.

—French authorship pays rather handsomely. Thiers sold his two great historical works for $100,000 each. Dumas pere has earned by his pen $900,000, of which he has saved nothing. Madame Sand has taken an average of $10,000 for each of her seventy-five volumes, and $80,000 more for her plays—$830,000 in all which will do for a woman.

—The elephant "Antony," belonging to Bailey's circus, died recently, of consumption, at Belfast, Maine, where it had been detained some days by its sickness. The remains were given to Dr. Pendleton, city physician of Belfast, who dissected the huge creature, and found its weight to be about 3,500 pounds, and the arrangement of its internal organs the same as those of the ox. Its heart, which has been preserved in spirit, would fill a large water-bucket.

—A photograph artist, named Lovejoy, is under heavy bonds, at Bridgeport, for selling obscene pictures. They were photographs of a young lady, named Wells, taken in a nude state, the negative of which he surreptitiously obtained from the gallery of another artist, who was a rival of his for her affections. Miss Wells was so much disturbed by the distribution of the photographs that she attempted suicide, but the matter on her part was finally settled by a marriage with one of the fellows, while the other awaits trial.

—The Generals of the regular army now rank in order of their names in the following list: General Ulysses S. Grant; Lieutenant General William T. Sherman; Major Generals Henry W. Halleck, George G. Meade, Philip Sheridan, George H. Thomas, Winfield S. Hancock; Brigadier Generals Irwin M'Dowell, William S. Rosecrans, Philip St. George Cooke, John Pope, Joseph Hooker, John M. Schofield, Oliver O. Howard, Alfred A. Terry, E. O. C. Ord. Of these, Gen. Terry, the brilliant captor of Fort Fisher, and faithful commander in Virginia, is the only officer drawn from civil life. All the others were educated at West Point.

HOW AN ACCOMPLISHED SWINDLER CAME TO GRIEF.—The author of the recent forgeries upon the Navy and Treasury Departments, mentioned in the dispatches a few days since, proves to have been William Ringgold Cooper, Acting Ensign of the Navy, lately on duty in the Bureau of Navigation. The young swindler has been moving in the best Washington circles for some time past, and was a few days since married to a Miss Julia Defrees, an accomplished young lady and niece of the Public Printer. Immediately after the marriage service, Cooper and his wife took the train for Philadelphia en route to Europe; but the detectives were on the same train, and the bridegroom forger was nabbed on his arrival in Philadelphia. All of the sixty thousand dollars, with the exception of about twenty-five hundred dollars, was recovered.

MUSICAL GOSSIP.

—It is reported that Ole Bull will shortly visit this country.

—Bottesini, the contra-bassist, is coming to New York in the fall.

—Mr. Grover will revive his German Opera Troupe next season.

—Auber is composing an opera for Patti. Sardou is writing the libretto.

—Jenny Lind was to sing at St. James' Hall, London, on the 11th ult.

—Blind Tom has made his appearance at Hanover Square Rooms, at London.

—Max Strakosch has engaged Signor Irfre, the tenor, for the coming season.

—Verdi has presented the Italian army, not with a march, but with a war-horse.

—It is rumored that the Patti Sisters will visit this country next season. Doubtful.

—The new Academy of Music, in New York, will not be ready for occupation before next spring.

—An "Academy of Music" is to be opened at Newport by an Italian Opera Company from New York.

—Ole Bull, who was killed so neatly by the obituary writers, awhile ago, is coming with his fiddle to America.

—Carlo Patti, the clever violinist, has returned from a successful tour to Europe, and is to play in New York soon.

—Maretzek will give his fall season of opera at Winter Garden, New York, commencing in November and continuing six weeks.

—Mdme. Goldschmidt has returned to England, and will sing at an orchestral concert given by Mr. A. S. Sullivan this month.

—Gottschalk is reported as greatly lionized, and very successful in piano-forte concerts, at Santiago, Chili's capital, while its gay season lasted.

—Madame Zucchi and M'lle Morensi are said to be engaged by Grau for his coming opera season. Both are now in Europe, but will return early in the fall.

—The Board of Music Trade met at Newport on the 11th ult. No business of importance was transacted. The officers of last year were continued. The next meeting will be held at Newport, in July next.

—A Boston paper says there will be no Italian opera at the Boston Theatre next winter, the lessees being opposed to breaking up the dramatic season for opera performances. Another paper contradicts this statement.

Florence Lancia and Brookhouse Bowler, who many have heard in Cooper's English Opera Company in this country, are making a sensation in England's "provinces" with various adaptations of foreign operas and Balfe's "Bohemian Girl."

—Adelina Patti's salary at Gye's Opera, London, is $4,000 in gold per month; her sister, Carlotti's, $2,400; Mario's is $4,000; Nandin's, $2,000; Faurie's, $1,750; Mucca, $4,000. Gye's artists cost him $35,000 per month, and his orchestra $500 per night.

THE once famous and persecuted Delia Webster lives in Kentucky, just opposite the city of Madison, Indiana. Her troubles seem to have recommenced. On Saturday night an assault was made upon her house, shots fired, and stones thrown. Nichols, overseer of Miss Webster's estate, was dangerously wounded. A gold watch and other valuables were stolen from the house. Miss Webster has been ordered by the outlaws to leave the State. It really seems as if, under the encouragement given the rebels by the author of "my policy," that all the old scenes of pro slavery outrage and wrong are to be re-enacted at our very doors.—Cin. Gazette.

PROPOSALS.
PENNSYLVANIA
Agricultural Land Scrip for Sale.

THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT having granted to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Land Scrip, representing 780,000 acres of Public Land, for the endowment of Agricultural Colleges in this State, the Board of Commissioners now offer this Land Scrip to the public.
Proposals for the purchase of this Land Scrip, addressed to "The Board of Commissioners of Agricultural Land Scrip," will be received at the Surveyor General's Office, at Harrisburg, until Wednesday, August 15, 1866.
This land may be located in any State or Territory, by the holders of the scrip, upon any of the unappropriated lands (except mineral lands) of the United States which may be subject to sale at private entry. Each piece of scrip represents a quarter section of one hundred and sixty acres. Bids must be made as per acre, and no bids will be received for less than one quarter section.
The Scrip will be issued immediately on the payment of the money to the Surveyor General, one-third of which must be paid within ten days and the remaining two-thirds within thirty days after notification of the acceptance of the bid or bids by the Board of Commissioners.
J. M. CAMPBELL,
Surveyor General.

Additional Local Matters on First Page.

The District Attorney and the Magistrates—The Monthly Return Question—Answer to the Rule to "Show Cause."

Some excitement prevailed yesterday among the magistrates of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, consequent upon it being the day fixed for the return of the rules to "show cause" issued upon them at the instance of the District Attorney some weeks ago. A number were present at the Court House to make answer, but had not the opportunity, as the Court did not meet. Inasmuch as the matter at issue has not hitherto been fully and fairly stated, we propose now to do so.

The last legislature passed an act, which became a law on the first of April, regulating the terms of the Courts of Common Pleas, Quarter Sessions, &c., and providing, among other things, that magistrates and constables shall make returns monthly instead of quarterly, as heretofore. The District Attorney, on the 30th of May, addressed a printed circular to the magistrates, reciting the provisions of the act applicable to them, concluding with the remark, "You will be expected hereafter to make your returns in compliance with the provisions of said act." The pertinent section he recited in substance as follows:

Fifth. That the Mayors and Aldermen of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and Justices of the Peace of the county, on the first Monday of each and every month, make a return on oath, to the Clerk of the Quarter Sessions, of all informations and recognizances made or taken before them during the preceding month or months, and ten days prior to the making of such return; and informations or recognizances taken by them ten days preceding the first Monday of each month, to be returned on the first Monday of the following month.

Sixth. Before making such return the said Mayors Aldermen and Justices of the Peace shall endorse their action on all informations that may have been dismissed, settled, or otherwise determined before them, and include such informations in their returns.

Seventh. That the Constables of the cities and boroughs, and of the townships of Peebles, Pitt, Liberty, Collins, Elizabeth, Union, Wilkins, Shaler, McClure, Ross, Reserve, Lower St. Clair and Versailles, shall make a return on oath of all persons selling spirituous, vinous or malt liquors in their respective wards, boroughs and townships, and of all persons violating the laws forbidding or regulating the sale thereof.

But one or two magistrates complied with the request of the District Attorney, and hence his appeal to the Court concerning those who did not comply, comprising the Mayors of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and Aldermen Strain, Taylor, Johns and others who transact more or less criminal business.

The answers returned to the rules to show cause for non-compliance with the act will be of the same nature, at least in the cases of Mayor Morrison, Aldermen Strain, Taylor, Johns, Nicholson and Donaldson. We took a copy of one, that of Alderman Strain, and it is as follows:

"First. That he has never at any time received official notice of the existence of any such act of the General Assembly as is claimed in said rule.

"Second. That he has never seen or received a certified copy of said Act, nor has he seen it as published in the ordinary and usual way of publication, to wit: The Pamphlet Laws of Pennsylvania.

"Third. That the only intimation your respondent has of the existence of any such act of the General Assembly was a printed circular, received through the post office, signed in printed letters, 'Levi Bird Duff, District Attorney,' in which circular were set forth the fifth, sixth and seventh sections of an act; but whether said circular contained a true and correct copy of the said act, affiant respondent is not aware; and whether or not the said sections of the said act might not have received qualifications from the other sections of said act, affiant respondent is not aware; and that respondent is bound to take notice of said printed circular as to the existence of such an act, respondent begs leave respectfully to deny."

Ignorance of the law is universally held to be no excuse for its violation. Whether the fact of the non-receipt of the Pamphlet Laws, or other official copy of the act non-complied with, by the magistrates, will be considered a full answer to the rule, the court will determine, and, in so doing, decide as to the official nature of the District Attorney's Circular, whether the magistrates were bound to take notice of it and assume the law to be as stated in that document.

Heretofore magistrates made their returns quarterly, ten days before the commencement of the term of court, not under oath, nor were they required to include in their returns "informations that may have been dismissed, settled, or otherwise determined before them."

Although reasonable objections may be urged against the departure from the old system of quarterly returns, the law having made the change, we believe it would not be much murmured at, were it not for the other innovation, which means no more nor less than that the magistrates shall have their entire criminal business pass in review before the Court, under the immediate direction of the District Attorney. Disorderly conduct cases, discharged, or in which fines have been imposed—assault and battery cases which may have been dismissed, or settled lawfully and amicably by the parties concerned—must be returned to the District Attorney. What for? We have (or had) what we denominated a "star chamber" municipal arrangement—the result of official arrogance, or an insane idea that certain ends would be better served by excluding the public, particularly reporters, from too close an inspection of matters, gratuitously assumed to be "none of their business"—but gave the matter the little consideration it deserved, reflecting that with the constant changing of officers, and the choice of successors of different calibre, changes in other respects may be expected. But we can't say we regard so indifferently such an "inquisition" as is proposed in the provisions of the act in question, "snaked through," as we understand, at the heels of the Legislative session. Is the honesty and integrity of our magistrates suspected; or are the laws, in existence for ages, found, at this late day, inadequate to discover and punish transgressions in office? Has it come to this, that magistrates must have their official acts reviewed by a law officer of inferior authority and responsibility, in order to discover, in the privacy of his office, whether they have discharged their trust as they should, he being, primarily at least, the judge? If the provision referred to does not mean this, what does it mean? Or where the necessity for it? Will the District Attorney or other legal man, explain when the rules come up for hearing?

A word about the constables, before closing this epistle. Those in the cities and boroughs, and in certain townships, are required to make monthly (instead of quarterly) returns of "persons selling spirituous, vinous or malt liquors in their respective wards, &c., and of all persons violating the laws forbidding or regulating the sale thereof." The law fails to make any provision for compensation for this extra labor of the constables, and consequently but few of them have performed it. The result of this innovation has been that in several instances two and three indictments have been found against parties for selling liquor without license, thus adding to the amount of fine imposed on the offender, and also adding to the fees of the Prosecuting Attorney.

We are not able to say when the argument, if any, will take place on the rules on the magistrates. John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., is retained as counsel by those whose names we have mentioned.

Rowdyism in Birmingham.

The borough of Birmingham was on Saturday night last made the scene of quite a number of street brawls and free fights. The principal affair took place on the corner of Carson and Denman streets, where a crowd of rowdies assembled and indulged in the rather dangerous amusement of knocking down every stranger who came along. About ten o'clock the leader of the mob, a fellow named Roberts, struck a respectable citizen and knocked him off the sidewalk into the street. Although not a pugilist, the gentleman assailed showed himself to be the possessor of a considerable amount of pluck by pitching into the "rough," and notwithstanding the interference of his comrade, he received what he deserved, a sound thrashing. As soon as the fight was over, a number of citizens gathered around the roughs and threatened to trounce them if they did not disperse. The threat was salutary, and in less than ten minutes the crowd had dispersed, and order reigned once more. Owing to the inefficiency of the police force of the borough, no arrests were made.

Fitting Up For a Synagogue.—The upper stories of the building on the northwest corner of Market and Second streets, in the First ward, are undergoing fitting up as a Jewish Synagogue, and the work has so far progressed that preparations for the opening next month are being made. A lease of the building, which belongs to the Denny estate, has been secured for ten years, at an annual rent of one thousand dollars. The Synagogue will occupy the second and third stories, and the entrance will be from Second street.

An Insane Man Arrested.—John J. Gorden was arrested and brought before Mayor McCarthy yesterday for committing an assault and battery on the person of Charles Kines. Gorden, who resides in the Seventh ward, is insane, and has been the occupant of the insane hospital at Dixmont for sometime back, having only effected his release on Saturday last. He was committed to jail, for the time being, but will doubtless be remanded to his old quarters until he is perfectly convalescent.

Fornication.—Amos Kenrick was before Alderman Albeitz, yesterday, charged with fornication and bastardy, on oath of Louise Schmidt. The prosecutrix has been employed in Mr. Kenrick's house as a domestic for over a year, having hired there immediately on arriving in this city from Germany. Kenrick gave bail for a further hearing on Saturday next.

Assault and Battery.—William Arnold was arrested and brought before Justice Lipp, yesterday, on a charge of assault and battery, preferred against him by Rachel Normine. He was discharged after a hearing, the evidence being deemed insufficient to warrant the prosecution.

German Picnic.—The German Lutherans held a very pleasant picnic yesterday, at Iron City Park. The best of order prevailed, and all in attendance enjoyed themselves highly.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

LATE FOREIGN ADVICES

The Reform Meeting at Hyde Park.

PEACE PRELIMINARIES ACCEPTED BY AUSTRIA.

Austria Excluded from the New Confederation.

PRUSSIANS REPULSED AT BLETMENAN

NEW YORK, August 6.—Advices brought by the steamer Germania, contain the following paragraphs confirmatory of the news briefly announced by the Atlantic cable.

A great reform demonstration took place in Hyde Park on the 23d. Eighteen hundred police, and two companies of life and foot guards were called out. Nothing very serious occurred.

In the House of Commons, on the 23d ult., Lord Stanly replied to Mr. White, acknowledging to the fullest extent, the friendly and honorable conduct of the United States during the Fenian raid in Canada, but as regards submitting the Alabama claims to arbitration, the discussion of these claims having been closed some time ago and not renewed since the present government came into office, he declined giving an opinion on the subject.

Austria has accepted the preliminaries of peace submitted by Prussia. The Plenipotentiaries had assembled at the Prussian headquarters to negotiate the armistice. Italy's definite reply was expected. She has already admitted in principle the peace preliminaries.

The preliminaries of peace proposed by Prussia and approved by France, are: Austria to recognize the dissolution of the former German Bund, and the organization of a new Confederation from which Austria is excluded. Austria agrees to this, North Germany to form a union under Prussia's direction; annexation of the Dutchies to Prussia, excepting Danish Schleswig; part payment by Austria of the war expenses; maintainance of Austria's integrity, excepting Venetia. Prussia intends annexing territory containing three millions of people.

The Austrians have repulsed a superior force of Prussians at Bletmenan.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Sale of Captured Prize Property—Funds in the Cash Vault of the Treasury—The Retirement of Maximilian.

NEW YORK, August 6.—The morning papers have the following specials from Washington:

A large and advantageous sale of captured prize property belonging to the Navy Department, took place on Friday, at the Gosport Navy Yard, netting a handsome revenue to the government. One item, scrap iron, sold at from one and five-eighths to two and one-fourth cents per pound, realized over $5,000.

Several hundred hogsheads of confiscated Virginia leaf tobacco will be sold by Colonel Loomis, Treasury Agent, at Richmond, the last week of the present month.

The Commissary General has decided that commutation of rations for soldiers, while confined in rebel prisons, shall be allowed only to them and to their heirs.

The following statement exhibits the amount of funds in the cash vault of the Treasury at the close of business: United States notes, legal tender, $6,800,000; National bank notes, $275,982; Fractional currency, $419,682. Total, $9,979,105. Treasurer Spinner holds in trust for National Banks as security for the following: Amount as security for circulation, $329,100,700; as security for Government deposits, $38,319,500; total, $367,441,200. National Bank currency to the amount of $767,700 was issued by the acting Comptroller of the currency during the week, making the total amount of the currency issued up to date $286,894,545.

A gentleman in this city has received a letter from a very responsible source in the City of Mexico, stating that there is no doubt felt but that Maximilian contemplates retiring by November, and that the Empress has gone to France to represent the hopeless financial condition of the Empire.

Cholera Among Troops on Board "San Salvador"—One-Fourth the Entire Command Die.

NEW YORK, August 6.—Concerning the cholera among the troops on the steamer San Salvador, it is stated that the steamer sailed from this port with four hundred and seventy recruits for the Seventh United States Infantry, on duty in Florida. They were all recruited in this State. The deaths on the 28th ult., amounted to fully one-fourth the entire command. On that date there were nineteen new cases, with eighty-nine others in the hospital. The disease appears since to have been gotten under control, for five deaths only occurred, and six new cases appeared from the 28th ult. to the 1st inst., and the vessel was reported to be due at Savannah within a few days after the passengers were released.

The Cholera in New York—Convicted of Willful Murder.

NEW YORK, August 6.—The cholera in this city has not seemingly abated for the twenty-four hours antecedent to seven o'clock a. m. yesterday. Twenty-nine official cases and nine deaths were, during that period, reported. In Brooklyn great difficulty was experienced in obtaining correct returns on Sunday, owing to the alleged mismanagement of the sanitary officials. Three deaths of previously reported cases had occurred on Governor's Island. On the other Islands no additional cases were mentioned.

The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of willful murder, yesterday, against Ira Mann, proprietor of the Washington House, Newark, for having stabbed Alvin Poole on Friday morning, so as to cause his death.

The Cholera in Cincinnati—Twenty-four Cases on Sunday.

CINCINNATI, August 6.—At a special meeting of the Board of Health in this city, on Saturday, the Health Officer reported three hundred and thirty deaths in July, among which were twelve from Asiatic cholera. The first case occurred July 12th. He also reports Aug. 1st, four deaths from cholera, 2d, three, 3d, ten; 4th, eleven; and yesterday, twenty-four. The large number of deaths within the last few days is probably owing to the sudden change of temperature. The thermometer indicated sixty-four degrees temperature.

Vessel Ashore.

OSWEGO, N. Y., August 6.—The schooner May Queen, from this port to Hamilton, C. W., with salt and merchandise, encountered the gale on Saturday, and went ashore at Big Sodus.

All descriptions of Government Bonds bought and sold on liberal terms.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

August 6, 1866.

The New York [illegible] quotations to-day were as follows: Gold, [illegible]@147¾; 1881s, 109¾; old 5-20s, 108⅜; new ditto, 106¼; 10-40s, 99½; 7-30s, 104¼. Cleveland & Pittsburgh R R., 86⅝; Fort Wayne, 103¼; Erie, 68⅞; Western Union Telegraph, Co., 55; Michigan Southern R. R., 84¾.

Some of the New York importers and bankers, who are understood to be largely short in gold, have made applications to the Secretary of the Treasury to relieve the market by inaugurating weekly sales of gold. As it has been the policy of the Secretary to hold the control of the money and gold markets in his own hands, we apprehend that this application is not likely to strike Mr. McCulloch very favorably; and especially as any decline in [illegible] prove unfavorably to the conversion of seven-thirties [illegible] which is at present going forward to a considerable extent. The shipment of five-twenties and the low rates of exchange have a tendency to force down the premium.

—The Chicago Tribune concludes, from despatches received from various points throughout the Northwest, that the winter wheat crop is generally better in quality and heavier in yield than for two years past. We should judge that the quality of the crop in Illinois and Indiana is much better than that of last year's while the yield is heavier. With regard to spring wheat, our advices nearly all go to indicate a heavy yield and excellent quality. In Iowa the crop is reported to be better in all respects than ever before, and we have very little complaint as to condition from any quarter.

—Complaints of dull trade in the Western cities are quite general. The Cincinnati Price Current says business is not only lifeless, but what little there is doing pays no profit. It adds: Those who make expenses consider that they are fortunate. It is clear that this state of things cannot long exist, without leading to a radical change; either an improvement must take place in business, or a general decline in rents and salaries. The majority of business men are actually living upon the profits of former years, and not only this, but meeting the losses incurred in their current business from them.

—The New York Post says:

The official returns of the export and import trade of the port for the month of June, completing the fiscal year, have just been published. The value of the imports is stated in gold, exclusive of freight and charges, while that of the exports is in currency. The imports in June were valued at $22,758,632 against $[illegible] for the same month last year, and $[illegible] for that of 1864. The exports during the same month in 1866 were valued at $19,[illegible], exclusive of specie; in 1865 at $8,[illegible], and in 1864 at $19,353,442. The imports for the first six months of the present year were valued at $[illegible], against $[illegible] for the same time in 1865, and $[illegible] for that of 1864. The exports to foreign ports for the corresponding period in 1866 were, exclusive of specie, $[illegible]; in 1865, $[illegible], and in 1864, $[illegible].

—The nationalization of the banks of Boston has very naturally led most to suppose that the banks of New York City were all recognized under the national currency act. But such is very far from being the case. We give the list of State banks of New York City: Bank of America, capital $3,000,000; Manhattan Company, $2,050,000; Nassau, $1,000,000; Corn Exchange, Manufacturers and Merchants, Peoples, North River, Oriental, New York, Dry Dock & Co., Bulls Head, Greenwich.

—The last issue of the Boston Bulletin notices copper stocks thus:

The coppers claim considerable attention, and in fact they have got it—as see our long column of their variations. The star actors, this week, upon the boards are almost too numerous to mention. Franklin and Hancock lead the procession. On Wednesday 200 shares of the latter were sold at from 25½ to 27½. It closes on Friday at 28¼. Franklin closes at same time at 47½. Pewabic, Pittsburgh, Quincy, Bay State, St. Clair, Petherick are names about which cluster numerous very interesting curb-stone and brokers' board associations. Carefully prepared statistics and ingenious theories are brought to bear upon the market for these, and the score or more other copper stocks which are now enjoying a public notoriety, and the operators indulge in a world of talk about this and that Lake stock. We hear of a large number of quite successful movements on the part of several well known outsiders so called.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, August 6, 1866.

There has been no new characteristic in the produce markets to-day worthy of special notice. The demand for Flour and Grain and nearly all of the leading articles continues very light, while prices are without quotable change, and the transactions are almost entirely of a local and unimportant character.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged; sale of 1 car prime Club at $2,10. Oats in better demand and firmer, in consequence of a falling off in the arrivals; sale of 3 cars No. 1 Chicago at 45, and 1000 bushels prime white, in elevator at 50@52. Corn is dull and nominal at 75 to 78. Sale of 1 car Chicago Rye at 90. No movement in Barley.

FLOUR—Continues quiet, the demand being somewhat restricted, while prices remain nominally unchanged. We continue to quote at $10 to 10,50 for Spring Wheat; $11 to 11,50 for half Spring and half Winter; and $12 to 12,50 for all Winter. Cornmeal is quoted at $1, and Rye Flour at $[illegible].

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm with a fair jobbing demand but unchanged; 17½ to 17¾ for Shoulders; 19@20 for Ribbed Sides; 23 for Plain Hams, and 25@26 for Sugar Cured. Lard is dull but firm at 21@22. Dried Beef is quoted at 27@28. Mess Pork dull and nominal at $33,25 to $33,50.

MILL FEED—Is firm, with a demand fully equal to the supply; sale of 1 car shorts at $1, 1 car prime white Middlings at $1,60.

POTATOES—Dull and in good supply; sales from store at $2,75@3 per bbl.

APPLES—There is a good demand for prime ripe Apples, and there are but but very few in market, and the suspension of navigation restricts arrivals. We continue to quote prime at $5 to $6 per bbl.

EGGS—A shade firmer, in consequence of light receipts but unchanged at 20 per dozen for fresh packed.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged. We quote at 15 to 16 for Western Reserve, 16@17 for Hamburg, and 21 for Goshen.

BUTTER—There is a good demand for fresh Butter and but very little offering; quotations may be given at 23 to 25, according to quality and condition.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, August 6, 1866.

CRUDE—The market in some quarter was reported a little "offish" to-day, though we must confess that there was nothing in fact to warrant any such conclusion. Prices remain about the same as on Saturday, as we are cognizant of offers to buy at 15 in bulk, on the spot, and refused, and 22, packages included. We can report sales of 125 bbls at 15, bbls returned, 100 at 19¾, packages included; 1700, in bulk, to arrive on the first water, at 14½; and it was reported that there has been a sale at 15, to arrive on first water, though the parties interested, for reasons best known to themselves, declined to report. The only difference that we could discover between the market to-day and Saturday, is that some parties were more anxious to sell to arrive on the first water, and possibly a slight concession would have been made in order to accomplish a sale. The feeling on the part of dealers is still averse to contracting to deliver oil within a specified time, which in consequence of the uncertainty of navigation. From Oil City, the advices by telegraph to-day were conflicting, though all agree in reporting the market firm. One party received a telegram quoting oil firm at $4,75 at the wells, while other dispatches quoted at $4,60 to $4,75 at Oil City.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was comparatively quiet to-day, as compared with last week, the demand, apparently, being less active, though as yet, prices are not quotably lower. We can report sales of 500 bbls for August delivery in Philadelphia, at 43@[illegible] do for same delivery, at same price; 500 for October, buyer's option, at 45, and 500 for November at 46. We also heard of a sale of one thousand barrels, free, at a price equal to 38, in bond, here, to be delivered in lots of 200 bbls each month, commencing with Oct. The Philadelphia market was reported a little off to-day, but this may have been done for effect, as the sales above reported will compare favorably with any of those effected last week, and besides, there is not much offering.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil continue very meagre. The following were reported to-day:

Jas. Wilkins	413	Baxter & Ellison	187
Brewer & Burke	107	McCreight & Co.	58
Wormser & Co.	100
Total			895

Boston Fish Market.

BOSTON, August 4.—New Mackerel are not yet plenty, and with a good demand from the trade, very full prices continue to be realized. New No. 2s are selling at $17@18; No. 3s $13@14 per bbl for large, and $11@12 for medium. Old mackerel are mostly out of the market and nominal. In New York, we note small sales of No. 1 Bay at $21 per bbl.

Alewives are firm, with sales of English at $7,50 per bbl, in bond. Pickled Herring are dull at $2,50@5,50 per bbl for common and Labrador. Smoked Herring are firm at 55@60c per box for No. 1 and scaled. New salmon are beginning to appear, but prices are not yet established.

Chicago Lumber Market.

CHICAGO, August 4.—The market was better supplied this morning, but prices ruled firm and steady. The demand by country and city dealers is good. Shingles are firm at $4@5,12½ for "A" sawed.

The demand in the yards is fair and prices steady. We quote:

First Clear, 1¼, 1½ and 2 inch, ₩ M. 60 00@65 00
Second Clear, 1¼, 1½ and 2 inch ₩ M. 55 00@60 00

The Commercial's money article says: The money market opens this week without any new feature. The supply continues in excess of the demand, and while the standard rate is 5 per cent., there are transactions to some extent at 4. In discounts there is not much doing. The general rate for prime paper is from 5 per cent. up to 7, for fair, while favorite names are freely taken at 5@5½ per cent. In Foreign Exchange there is nothing doing this morning. Rates are not yet established for the next steamer. Gold was more active and prices advanced from 147¼ on Saturday evening, to 147⅜@147⅝, at noon to-day. At the Board this morning there was only a moderate business, and prices, on the whole, were somewhat weak. Governments, however, [illegible] steady, and there were large sales of Five-Twenties. In Railroad shares there was little doing.

Since the Board there was little doing in Railroad shares, and prices are slightly lower. Some sales of Erie have been made at 67¾@67⅞, closing at former prices.

Four o'clock board—Ohio and Mississippi receipts, 29½; Quicksilver S, 30@49¼; Mariposa preferred, 26¾; Western Union Telegraph, 55¾; New York Central extra D, 104⅝; Erie, 67¾; Reading, extra D, 110½; Michigan Southern, [illegible]; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 86⅝; extra D, [illegible]; Cleveland and Toledo, 115¼; Chicago and Rock Island, 104¼; Chicago and Northwestern, [illegible]; M. and C., 1st 6's 3, 42¾. Gold closed at 147½.

The bank statement shows an increase in loans of $196,646; decrease in specie, $252,640; increase in circulation, $62,568, decrease in deposits, $125,221, decrease in legal tenders, $470,-[illegible].

The Post's money article says: The market [illegible] easy at 4@5 per cent. The Gold market [illegible] more firm. Stock market steady but dull. Government Securities firm, and Five-Twenties of the original issue are in demand at 1,10. After the Board the quotations were: New York Central, 1,04¼; Erie, 67¾; Hudson River, 1,2[illegible]; Michigan Central, 1,18; Illinois Central, 1,21.

New York Market.

Milwaukee Market.

MILWAUKEE, August 6.—Flour dull. Wheat firm at $1,64 for No. 1. Corn dull at 55½ for No. 1. Oats drooping; sales at 31c.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, August 6.—There is no improvement to report in the wool market, which continues to rule dull with an unmistakable softening tendency in rates. We cannot make much change in quotations, however, for the reason that buyers and sellers are apart, and transactions hang fire. In order to effect large sales, material concessions would have to be made by the latter. But as there is no margin on wool, even at the nominal rates, holders are not inclined to press sales at the risk of a further reduction.

Consumers are quite easy in their circumstances, being in receipt of considerable supplies of staple direct from the country. They are in no hurry to operate just at present, and until the goods market becomes more active, and though many of them are daily looking about and feeling for soft spots in the wool market, they do not take hold unless decided bargains are offered. Before the close of the month, however, it is very probable that circumstances will change, and they will be forced into the market for current supplies of material.

The receipts continue very heavy from all the wool growing States, and stocks have already so largely accumulated, that our commission merchants are put to their trumps for storage. Most of the new clip comes forward in fine condition, and when nicely graded and piled in the huge warehouses on Congress street, they present a very attractive spectacle, quite in contrast with their late empty appearance.

But choice lots of wool are almost entirely nominal, and generally held above the market. Indeed, they cannot be sold just now except at a material sacrifice. Some consigners are anxious to realize, but our commission merchants are strong holders, and have no need nor disposition to slaughter their principals, as some envious Gothamites have insinuated.

Our correspondents inform us that business is quite at a stand in the country, growers refusing to sell at prices which will afford any margin to operators. The latter are not now offering any thing like rates paid earlier in the season, and the former, not seeming to comprehend the why and wherefore, will not submit to the reduction. Many of them labor under the erroneous impression that the supplementary bill, providing for an increased tariff on wool and its manufactures, was actually passed by Congress. But the only advantage conferred on them by that body, is the provision which makes the incidental expenses of import a part of the cost basis in the assessment of duties.

Sales of domestic for the week foot up some 425,000 lbs at a range of 45@80c for fleece, and 55@72c for pulled.—Bulletin.

RIVER NEWS.

We clip the following items from the St. Louis Democrat of Saturday:

Samuel Stillwell and Joseph Aiken, yesterday, sold the stern wheeler Amaranth for $12,000 cash, to Captain John Wesley, an old Illinois boatman, who takes the boat into that stream. On the 1st, one third of the Governor Sharkey, who sold by J. S. Smith and Eugene Turton, to Wm. Turton, for $[illegible]. The Kenton left last night for the iron pile, and will be back this morning with 200 tons. Captain Dunlap will back the Kenton out this evening positively for all points on the Ohio to Pittsburgh. Whitaker, of the Guidon, came up on the Belle St. Louis on a visit. Jimmy Speed is clerking for him. Upon the return of Capt. Whittaker, he will take command of the Guidon, in the place of Capt. Lee, who will command the Dan Vernon, in the Vicksburgh trade.

The custom house officials in New Orleans are, we learn, more attentive to steamboats than usual. In fact they carry their attentions and officiousness to such an extent as to become odious in petty annoyances. The marine law requires that vessels shall have the full name on the hull; also the port where built or owned; and possibly it requires steamboats to have their full name on the side or side-wheel houses. Now the Nicholas Longworth—a rather long name—filled all these requirements, but the sharp agent in New Orleans, pecking about for flaws, discovered that the name on the sides of the pilot house was abbreviated to "N. Longworth." Before Capt. Irwin could leave port he was compelled to take out a special permit for the "N. Longworth," though the Nicholas Longworth, on the wheel house loomed out big enough and long enough for any one to see.—Louisville Courier.

The following section of [illegible] Congress, July 25, will prove interesting to steamboatmen:

"SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That cotton, hemp, hay, straw, or other easily ignitable commodity, shall not be carried on the decks or guards of any steamer carrying passengers, except on ferry boats crossing rivers, and then only on the sterns of such boats, unless the same shall be protected by a complete and suitable covering of canvas or other proper material, to prevent ignition of sparks, under a penalty of one hundred dollars for each offense. Nor shall coal or crude petroleum be hereafter carried on such steamers, except on the decks or guards thereof, or in open holds where a free circulation of air is secured, and at such distance from the furnaces or fires as may be prescribed by any supervisors [supervising] inspector or any local board of inspectors."

PRO BO NO PUBLICO.

Yet they say 'tis a heinous crime the way business is conducted. Some say it is murdering the trade. Others say it is against his own interests. We can't believe it. Let us see what the true state of affairs is. The truth is this: That there is a new establishment, neatly fitted up, at No. 87 Market street, Pittsburgh, over which W. G. MAHAFFEY presides, and in which boots and shoes are sold at prices so low as to astonish the natives. Hear me while I give you the prices of a few articles, while all other articles are sold correspondingly low: Ladies' Congress Lasting gaiters selling at $1.50; Ladies' Sewed Morocco Boots at $2.00; Men's Congress Lasting Gaiters at $2.00; Children's Slippers at 60c; Children's Morocco Shoes at 50c. A large lot of gent's prime fine calf balmorals and gaiters just received and selling exceedingly low. In addition to this he keeps any article in the boot or shoe line, and manufactures to order Ladies' Congress lasting gaiter morocco boot, ladies' and gentlemen's fancy cloth embroidered slippers. Likewise gent's first class calf boots made to order $1.50 lower than any other first class house in the city. Lasts at up to fit the feet, which we would advise every man to have of his own. Ladies' and gent's fancy cloth slipper uppers, silk embroidered, for sale. Wherein consists the crime. If in selling low, we plead guilty; and by selling low we expect to preserve our own interests, and made quick sales and many of them. Inviting you to call and see for yourselves we leave the subject with you.

DR. KEYSER'S

Pectoral Syrup

CURES CONSUMPTION

Cures Bronchitis

CURES COLDS.

Cures Asthma

CURES

All Diseases of the Lungs.

A case of [illegible] years' standing cured by DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.

PITTSBURGH, January [illegible].

DR. KEYSER—My wife has been afflicted with a cough and difficulty of breathing for five or six years, which, for several years back, had gradually increased in violence. The complaint has been hereditary, and she had been treated by several physicians without any relief. In this state of her case I procured some of your PECTORAL COUGH SYRUP. I bought, the first time, a fifty cent bottle, which relieved her very much; I then called and got a dollar bottle, which cured her entirely, and she has now no trace of the former disease, except weakness. I would also state that I used the medicine myself for a cold and cough. The medicine cured me by taking one dose. I express my entire satisfaction with the medicine, and you are at liberty to publish this if you desire.

WM. WILSON,
Alderman, Fifth Ward.

PITTSBURGH, April 24, 1866.

READ THE TRUTH.—DR. KEYSER: I have a daughter who has taken several medicines for a bad cough without benefit, among them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I purchased from you a bottle of your Pectoral Syrup, and before she had used half a bottle she was relieved. The second bottle cured her entirely of her cough.

JOHN DARIN,
Robinson street, Allegheny.

PITTSBURGH, December [illegible].

A GREAT CURE BY DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—I live in Peebles' township, Allegheny county. I had a cough and spitting, which commenced about the 1st of February last and continued eight months. I employed the best physicians in the country, and my cough continued unabated until early in October. At that time I was advised to try your Pectoral Cough Syrup, which I did, and after I had taken one bottle I was entirely free from the coughing and spitting. I had despaired of ever getting well, and I think it should be known that this valuable remedy will do for others what it has done in my case.

JOHN C. LITTLE,
Witness: R. M. KEYS. Peebles township.

PATTON TOWNSHIP, April 14, 1866.

A WONDERFUL CURE.—Some time ago an old neighbor of mine was very ill with a bad cough, which every one supposed to be consumption. His relatives told me that he had taken every remedy they heard of without benefit; his brother came to see him die, and all were confirmed in the belief that he could not live. I had about the third of a bottle of your Pectoral Syrup, which I gave him, and it entirely cured him, to the astonishment of all. What makes the case more remarkable, is the extreme age of the man, he being about eighty years old. I have no doubt the Pectoral saved his life.

JOHN McGINNIS.

DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP IS ALAID [illegible]—Please [illegible] another [illegible] of your [illegible] Pectoral Syrup. Almost everybody around us has the cough, and are enquiring for "Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup." We have sold sixteen bottles the last week, and are now entirely out. Mr. A. Adair and Mr. P. Maher, both of [illegible], Pa., told us they would not be without it in their families. In fact, all who use it come for it again.

Yours, [illegible]

J. R. [illegible]

PITTSBURGH, [illegible].

DR. KEYSER—Allow me to say a few words. [illegible], in general, it affords me pleasure to [illegible] to recommend your PECTORAL SYRUP. As a preventive, it is well worthy consideration of persons who may in any manner be annoyed with coughs, colds and throat affections of any kind, and for its peculiar qualities of allaying irritation, all that the agreeable sensation attending a severe cold.

I have been, more or less, during life, afflicted with the severest of colds and hoarseness. At [illegible] I would become so hoarse as to prevent me speaking above a whisper, and by taking a few doses of the above Syrup it would remove it entirely.

In recommending this medicine, I do it unhesitatingly, and say that it is the best remedy I ever used purporting to cure the above, nor should any family be without this remedy for [illegible].

Yours, most respectfully,
EDWARD S. JONES,
Cashier Citizens' Deposit Bank.

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio, March 14, 1866.

I have used Dr. Keyser's Cough Syrup for a bad cough of several years standing, and can safely say it is the best medicine for such as I have ever taken. [illegible]

COL. PRATT AND DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP.—DR. KEYSER—Dear Sir: [illegible] of my acknowledging the excellence of your Pectoral Cough Syrup [illegible]. I have [illegible] saying that it is all you say it is. It loosened the phlegm out of my cough, and the worst one I was ever afflicted with. I have not used more than one-half of the bottle, and I can and do wish that all who are afflicted would give it as fair a trial as I have done, and they will be pleased also. [illegible] would not suffer another such an attack for any consideration. [illegible] confident that [illegible] have ever [illegible]. I shall always acknowledge a debt of gratitude for inventing so excellent a remedy. You are at liberty to use my name in this regard as you think proper.

ANOTHER NEW CERTIFICATE.—DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP. I had [illegible] with a cough and cold for [illegible], so that I could not sleep. I had the advice and prescriptions from three of the best physicians in the city, whom I could name, but do not desire. I finally procured a bottle of your Pectoral Syrup, which cured me entirely.

"STOP THAT COUGHING."—"How can I do it?" Go to Keyser's, on Wood street, and get a bottle of his Cough Pectoral, and if that don't cure you, your case must be desperate indeed. [illegible] of the colloquy one hears every day at this season of the year. And we can, from actual experiment, cheerfully concur in the advice as above, for we have tried the "Pectoral," in a most stubborn case, with entire success. Not two weeks ago we went to Pittsburgh, with one of the most distressing, contrary, mulish, inside-out coughs we ever experienced since our advent into this mundane sphere. We coughed steadily and persistently for one whole week, in hopes to tire it out, but it was no go. In fact, it seemed rather to have improved by practice, and to have acquired strength, potency and distressability by the operation. In this stage of the affair, we dropped in at Dr. Keyser's, No. 140 Wood street, procured a fifty cent bottle of his "Pectoral," took it according to directions, and in forty-eight hours we were master of the field, the enemy having unconditionally surrendered, after a brief, but [illegible] struggle with so formidable an adversary as Dr. Keyser's famous Cough Pectoral.—Brownsville Clipper, Dec. 14, 1865.
